

“Suppose we have only dreamed, or made up, all those things - trees and grass and sun and moon and stars and Aslan himself.

Suppose we have. Then all I can say is that, in that case the made-up things seem a good deal more important than the real ones...

We're just babies making up a game, if you're right. But four babies playing a game can make a play-world which licks your real world hollow.

That's why I'm going to stand by the play-world.

I'm on Aslan's side even if there isn't any Aslan to lead it. I'm going to live as like a Narnian as I can even if there isn't any Narnia.”
